SIGNIFICANT NOTES

These 1999 figures are based on an audit by Geyer and Associates, Certified Public Accountants. Their official statement is available for review by any member. This report is not prepared by them, but is presented to help members interpret the FCLB finances.

FCLB identifies but does not fund depreciation.

REVENUES

The NBCE's generous unrestricted operations grant continues to stabilize our finances. The NBCE also co-sponsored the conference welcome reception, with an additional contribution of $3,591.

The third and final installation ($55,000/yr) of NCMIC's grant was received this year continuing to fund the development of CIN-BAD. NCMIC also awarded a second two-year grant totaling $120,000 to underwrite the final development of ALLDoCS.

ACA continues to contribute to our funding, offering unrestricted operations support.

In 1999, the FCLB membership voted to raise dues effective in 2000 which should bring in an additional $12,000. Directory sales remain steady.

Another important source of income continues to be CIN-BAD queries and subscriptions. These revenues increased this year by nearly 30%.

Future: 2000 will challenge us as we continue to expand our database using the latest technology. Identifying expanded income support and sources is needed to continue to enhance our database services, conference quality, and presence in both chiropractic and interprofessional forums to speak for our members' needs in licensure and regulation.

EXPENSES

Our service activity continued to grow notably while we held our expenses to a moderate 6% increase. General meeting expenses includes the credentialing seminar costs which were offset by a grant from Professional Exam Service given in Dec 1998.

Public relations continues in full swing with more frequent and more detailed newsletters.

Under the direction of the Board, a management consultant was engaged to study the strengths and weaknesses of FCLB. The board held its 1999 mid-year strategic planning session in December in Greeley, which built upon the recommendations of our consultant.

A new computer system was purchased to facilitate the design and expansion of CIN-BAD to include ALLDoCS, as well as development of a user friendly interactive database. This database design and upgrade was subcontracted to a private consultant and will eventually be available via intranet as well as Internet. Its development is well underway and many of our services including conference registration are now available on the web.

Pending equipment needs include a new photocopier.

We continue our involvement in the regulatory forums offered by FARB and CLEAR, as well as intraprofessional meetings such as CCE, Association of Chiropractic Colleges, and the Congress of Chiropractic State Associations.

The Model Disciplinary Code project was complete this year with the approval of the final report. $18,782 remains in restricted funds and will be used to offset publication costs and general project overhead, including posting the document on the web.
